DECLARATION

By signing this document we are entering into a legally binding contract. We thereby confirm the above booking for Cine Transfer and have read and understood the Terms & Conditions of Business below.

Terms & Conditions of Cine to DVD/USB Conversion Service

1. We assume that you have full copyright clearance to instruct us to copy any materials on your behalf. We do however, reserve the right to decline offering you this service if we believe copyright clearance has not been obtained or the material is in violation of any laws or could expose us to any private or public litigation.
2. Unless otherwise agreed, full payment for any of these services is required upon completion of the order.
3. Any liability for the damage or loss of materials which occurs during the conversion process will be limited to the replacement of the blank media, howsoever caused. We do not accept any liability for the contents within the recording/s.
4. Once we have supplied your DVD/USB we will immediately delete all content from our system. Additional copies will therefore be charged at the full conversion rates listed above.
